Acknowledgements

The author gratefully acknowledges the following for their assistance and cooperation during the planning and execution of this survey:

- Craig Murdoch (BV) for guidance and feedback as Survey Coordinator
- Martin Mebalds (BV) for resources such as GPS units, and statistical analysis for the survey
- Mary Cannard (Murray Valley Citrus Board, Mildura) for her considerable and invaluable input into the selection of potential survey properties, contact with citrus growers and provision of property maps and planting data
- Tony Bothroyd (Murray Valley Citrus Board, Mildura) for sharing his valuable local knowledge of the citrus industry to assist in the location and selection of survey properties
- Frann Sette (SunRise 21 Inc, Mildura) for production of a regional map of citrus property locations
- Citrus growers across the region for their cooperation and willingness to be involved in the survey

Introduction

Under a Commonwealth Government biosecurity program, Australian farming industries are periodically surveyed for the presence of exotic pests and diseases. The surveys, performed with industry support, are intended to reassure our trading partners that certain plant pests and diseases are absent from our farms.

Victorian citrus properties were surveyed in 2004 for citrus canker and in 2006 for a broader range of exotic pests and diseases. As part of this ongoing surveillance program, Biosecurity Victoria (BV) commissioned DPI Victoria to undertake a survey for exotic pests and diseases on citrus properties in the Murray Valley region of Victoria. The survey was to include approximately 40 sites and provide a broad geographical cover of the citrus districts within the region.

The results of the survey are presented in the report 'Citrus exotic pest and disease survey – 2010' produced by DPI Victoria. This confidential supplement contains Appendix 7 of that report, listing the site and contact details of properties visited during the survey. Appendix 6 is also included in this supplement for completeness, as it lists the citrus block and patch identification codes for each site inspected during the survey.
